

Director of Veterinary Services

Full-service hospital, innovative blend of private practice and shelter medicine!

MCPAWS is looking for an experienced veterinarian to oversee our Veterinary Medicine Program. The goal of this program is to maximize the positive impact our organization has on pets and the people who love them through compassionate and comprehensive veterinary services. www.mcpaws.org

The Position: Utilize a full service hospital to meet the unique veterinary needs of our community. The MCPAWS Veterinary Medicine Program is a unique blend of shelter medicine and full-service, private practice veterinary work. Administrative duties are covered and veterinary support staff is ready to help you focus your unique talents where they are needed most – with our two and four-legged clients! Position acts as mentor to Associate Veterinarian(s) and serves a key role in high level, organizational leadership and initiatives. Expect around 60% private practice work to 40% shelter medicine.

- $90,000 - $100,000 per year
- Professional development, including on the job mentorship and formal training in specialized fields, like orthopedics (TPLO, TTA, etc), is available and encouraged
- Benefits package, paid time off, flexible schedule
- Assistance with relocation expenses available

The Company: MCPAWS is a small animal welfare organization serving the West Central Mountain Region of Idaho. We're excited to be expanding our operations to include comprehensive public veterinary services! MCPAWS recognizes our employees as our greatest resource and we put a high value on quality of life as well as professional performance. We're constantly striving to remain a competitive and attractive employer for current and future staff members!

The Community: Beautiful McCall, Idaho! Boasting exceptional recreational opportunities, public land access, and a laid back, mountain-town lifestyle. Local school districts and healthcare facilities are some of the best in the state and our arts and culture scene is vibrant. Best of all, the area is FULL of animal lovers! MCPAWS enjoys amazing support from residents, visitors, and our community in general. Visit www.visitmccall.org to learn more.
